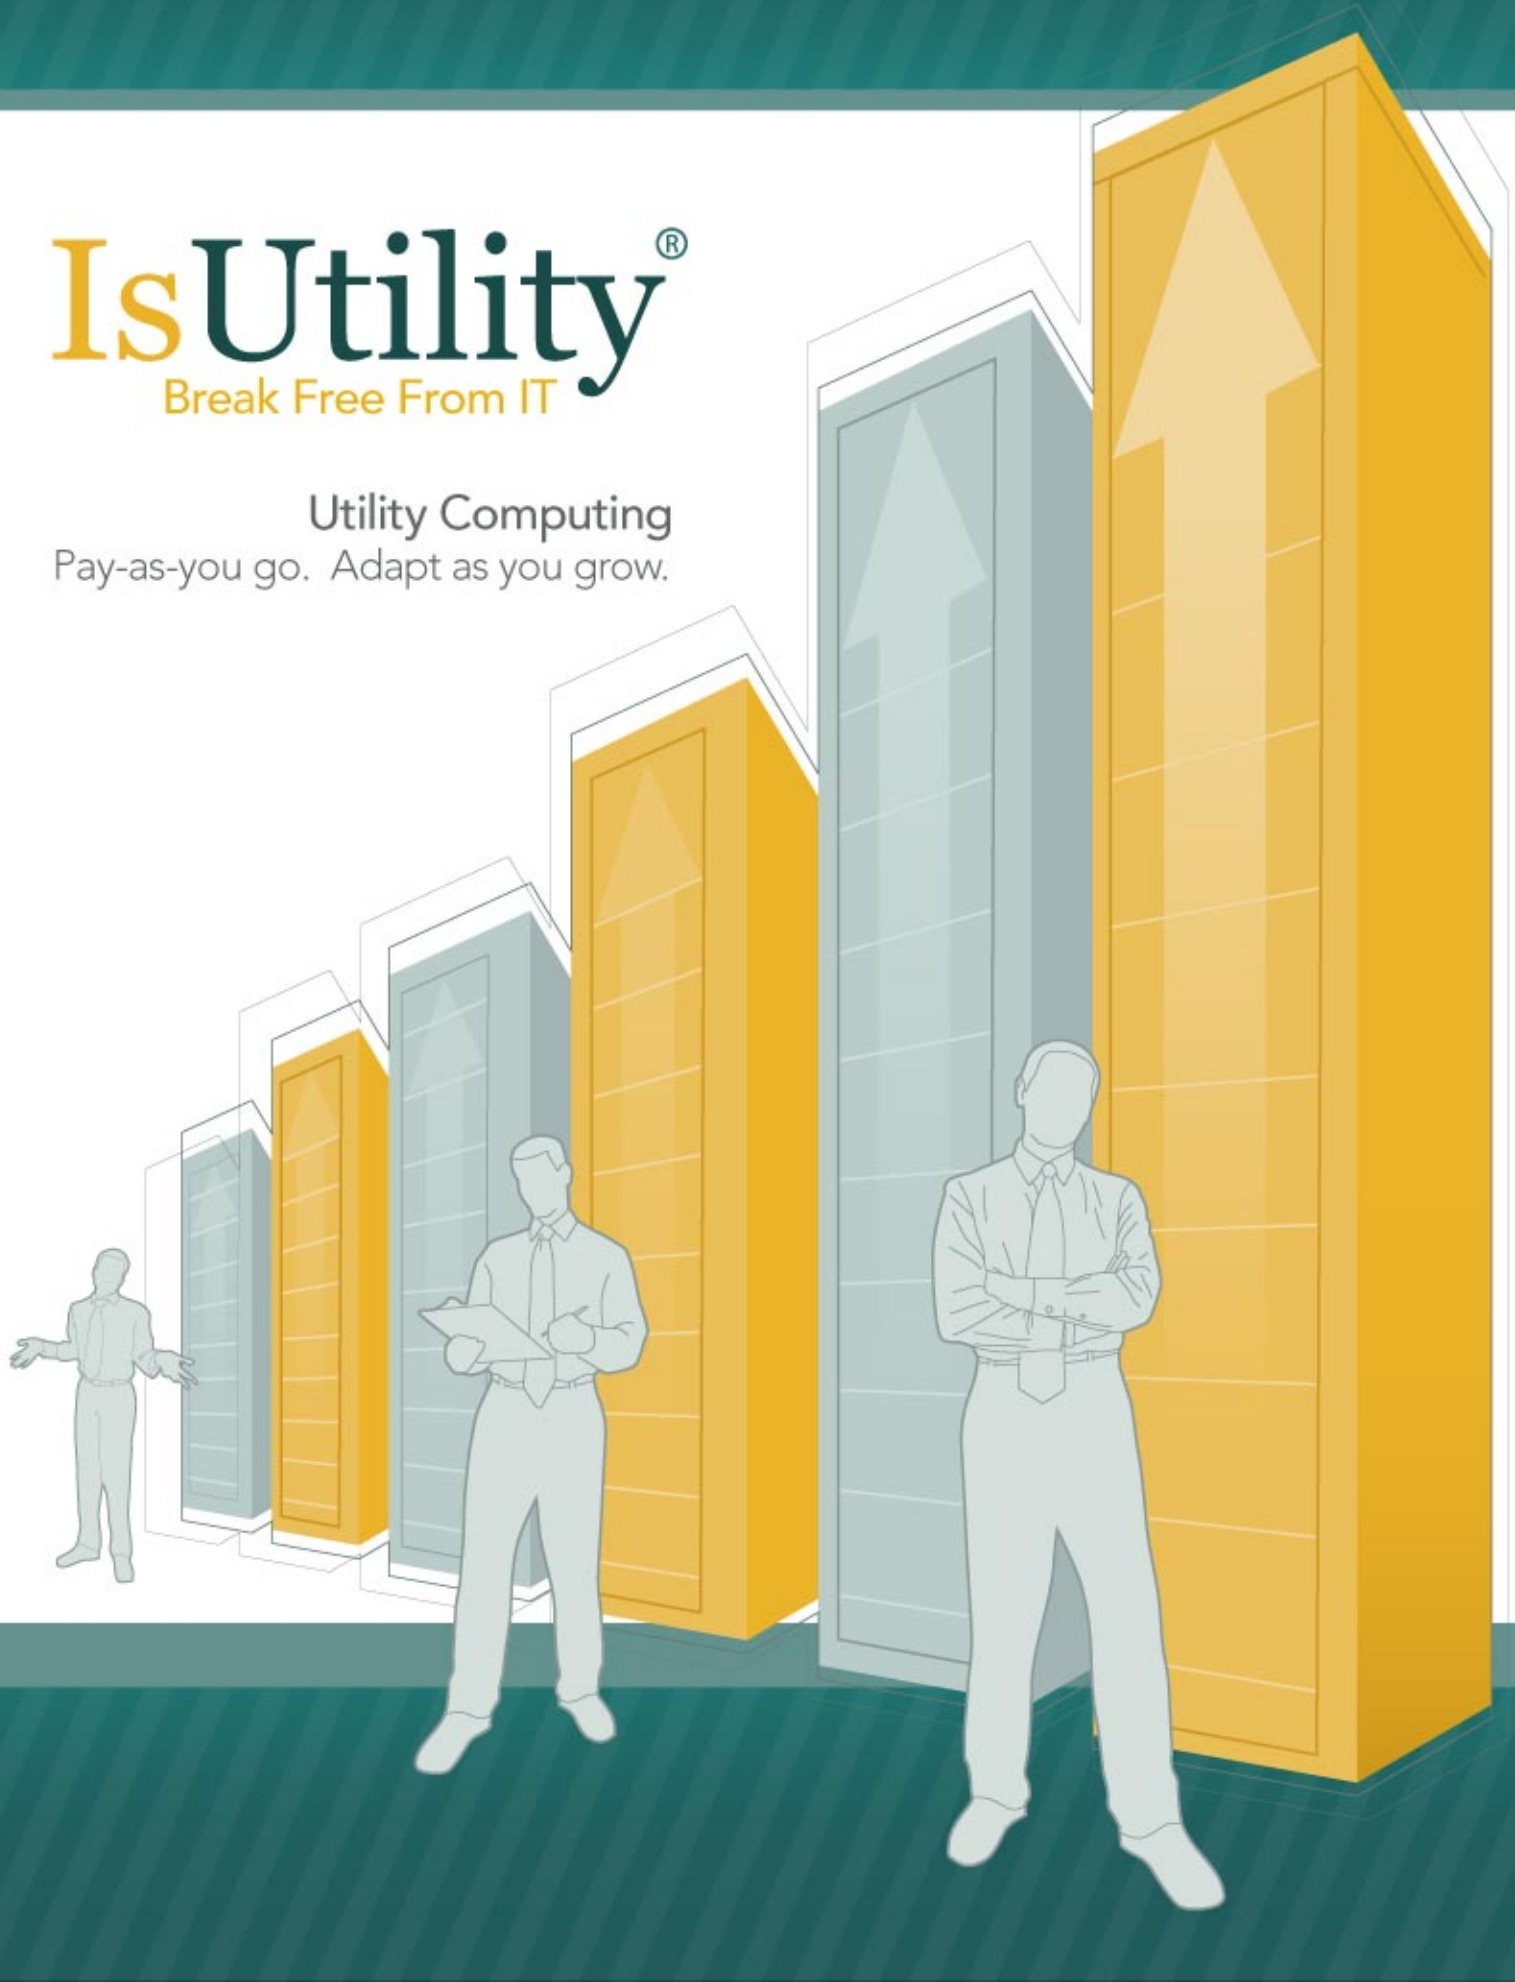
IsUtility®

Break Free From IT

Utility Computing

Pay-as-you go. Adapt as you grow.



Traditional IT solutions thrive off your problems. IsUtility® thrives off your success.

What is IsUtility®?

Before you invest valuable resources in purchasing, managing and upgrading an onsite IT network, imagine having all your technology needs delivered and supported for one predictable monthly fee. IsUtility® delivers industry-leading technology, backups and support to your business much like a utility company delivers water or electricity. So you can predict your exact IT operating costs, know you'll be up and running at 99.9% or better and get unlimited help desk support - all with one simple IT solution. Visit isutility.com to learn how leading companies are growing by as much as 25% annually by breaking free from IT.

Cut capital IT expenditures

No more recurrent technology purchases and upgrades. All your IT needs are delivered and supported for one predictable monthly fee. Utility-based business model allows clients to benefit from lower costs that come from economies of scale.

Eliminate the risk of conventional IT

Eliminate the risks of managing unpredictable technology. Never pay consultant fees every time issues arise or an IT employee to sit around when they don't. Our 30 day agreements guarantee that your satisfaction is what keeps us in business, not long-term binding commitments.

Resolve issues instantly, 24/7

IsUtility®'s local 24/7 help desk is like having your own support team onsite. Employees instantly solve technical issues by contacting IsUtility's Microsoft® and Cisco-certified experts who average 15 years of IT experience.

Protect your data with a team of experts

Your valuable business data is proactively monitored by a team of security experts and multi-layered systems. IsUtility® is routinely audited by independent third parties like Price Waterhouse Coopers and Microsoft®, and is S-OX, GLB and HIPAA compliant.

Adapt instantly to changing market conditions

Since you pay only for the resources you use, adding new applications, users or office locations is seamless. Centralize multiple offices without VPN's or costly installations, and securely access your data from any Internet connection.

Eliminate lost productivity due to downtime

Only IsUtility® can guarantee 99.9% uptime or better without incurring additional costs. Since everything runs on our state-of-the-art systems, issues are always resolved at our expense, before they ever affect you.

Never purchase, manage or upgrade your IT again

The IsUtility® Difference

Why continually invest in depreciating technology or pay 'on-the-meter' support rates every time technical issues arise? IsUtility® delivers technology resources as you need them, enabling seamless adaptability to changing market conditions – with virtually no capital investment or risk. Since everything runs on our state-of-the-art systems, issues are always resolved at our expense, before they ever affect you. Our 30-day agreements let you cancel the service at anytime - unconditionally - guaranteeing that your satisfaction is what keeps us in business, not long term, binding commitments.
